INTRODUCTION

In presenting the 1934 Year Book to our readers we are again reminded that in our church activities we have passed another milestone. As the years come and go we are impressed with the fact that we have one year less to serve and are one year nearer the end of our earth life and the coming of our Lord, when we must render an account of our stewardship.

One of the purposes of the Year Book is to give an account of the work that was done by our various organized church activities during the year that is past. Hence we find in it not only articles representing these activities but statistics concerning the various conferences, boards, and general committees. We shall call attention to a few outstanding items. The total membership of our branch of the Mennonite Church is now, as listed on page 76, 51,308, a gain over last year of 1,512 members. This is the first time in the history of the Mennonite Church in America that our number has gone over the 50,000 mark. The membership in the United States is 45,071, an increase of 1,353 over last year's report. We are encouraged to know that we are still a growing organization, even though we are a small body. May we grow spiritually as well as numerically.

A glance at the Sunday school statistics on page 36 shows that 482 Sunday schools are listed, with an enrollment of 69,038. This is an increase in enrollment over last year of 4,545. This year 5521 teachers are listed, an increase of 300 over last year. The number of officers listed this year is 1743. Our army of Sunday school pupils and workers is constantly on the increase, for which we praise the Lord.

The contributions for mission purposes have again fallen off during the past year. The total as given on page 7 is $164,256.10, a decrease of $28,237.98 from the amount contributed in 1932. This shows that the effects of the prolonged financial depression are still being felt quite decidedly in the offerings for missions. We trust that next year will show an increase.

The Grim Reaper has taken quite a toll among the ordained men of the Church, as will be seen in the Summary of Events for 1933. Twenty-four of our church leaders answered the last call during the past year. But we are comforted by the assurance that those who lay down their armor here continue their service with the redeemed over yonder. We are glad to note also that as the ranks are depleted other men are ordained to take their places. There were forty-two ordinations last year. May these newly called workers be faithful to their sacred trust and lead the Church to higher ground spiritually and be instruments in God's hands to extend her borders still farther into unoccupied territory.

Another outstanding event is found in the preparations to begin mission work in Africa. Two brethren have been ordained for this work, and at this writing Bros. Elam Stauffer and Orie O. Miller are in the Dark Continent looking for a place to locate the prospective African Mennonite Mission. May the Lord lead very definitely in this great undertaking.

The past year is gone. We cannot change the work that has been done. The opportunities that came to us then will never come again. From the Church angle much work has been done, but, after all, probably, there is much more that we might have done had we been more faithful and diligent. May we yield our lives completely to Him so that He may lead us to His glory and make us a blessing in the work of His kingdom during 1934.

MISSION ACTIVITIES FOR 1933

By S. C. Yoder, Secretary of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

The year 1933 is past. Its record has become a matter of history. The New Year stretches out before us and offers us all its splendid opportunities for service in the vineyard of the Lord. It is not out of place, then, to take an inventory of the past in order that we may profit by our experience and plan wisely for the future. As we review the past year we find much that is encouraging and helpful in spite of the difficulties that were encountered all along the way.

From both India and South America there come encouraging reports of eagerness for the Word and the acceptance of the Gospel by many souls. The South American Mission shows a gain of more than thirty-six per cent in membership during the last year. This is very encouraging and indicates that in spite of conditions that generally discourage people, great things can be done for God when Christians put their trust and confidence in Him.

In India we now have eight organized congregations with 1,360 members. Besides this, the report shows that there are twenty stations and outstations, twenty-two station Sunday schools and fifty-nine village Sunday schools with an average attendance of 2,688 pupils each Sunday. There is also the Girls' Boarding School, the Boys' Orphanage, the Widows' Home, the Leper Asylum, and the Old Men's Home. In the way of schools there is the Carpentry School, the Christian Academy and Bible School, the Girls' Middle School, Girls' Industrial School, four station primary schools, and five village primary schools. Besides the above institutions there is the Hospital and a number of dispensaries.

At the close of the year there were on the Indian field twenty-four missionaries, ten at home on furlough, and two under appointment. In addition to our own missionaries we have twenty-five native evangelists and thirty-one native Bible women. Last year these native workers held 13,278 meetings, which averaged an attendance of twenty, consequently these natives taught the Scriptures or preached to 265,560 people during their ministry. Time alone can tell what the fruits of this work will be.

The South American work of our Church is only about half as old as that of India. On account of the condition of the country the work is directed along somewhat different lines than that of India. There are now fourteen organized congregations in charge of the missionary or native pastors, with a total membership of 375. In addition to this there are five outstations that are being served by the pastors of the regular stations or churches. The report shows eighteen organized Sunday schools with an average attendance of 654. Last year there were employed nine native Bible Readers who made a total of 3,892 visits and spoke to 6,665 people. There is also a kindergarten in which there are enrolled 203 children and a primary school with an enrollment of fifty-four. Owing to Bro. Nelson Litwiller's absence from the field the Bible School was discontinued for the year.

The Mennonite Printery in Argentina has proven a very helpful factor in evangelization. During the year 180,000 copies of El Camino Verdadero (The True Way) were printed. This is an average of 15,000 per month. Ninety-three thousand copies were distributed in our own district and 87,000 were sent to other denominations who paid for same. La Voz Mennonita (The Mennonite Voice) is the name of the new Church periodical. It is hoped that it will become to the Argentine Church what the Gospel Herald is to the Church in North America. Some over three hundred copies are printed each issue. Besides the above periodicals there are printed each year thousands of tracts, handbills, and other material for use of the missionaries.

The Orphanage is still without a home. It was hoped that a new building might be erected during the year, but financial conditions made it impossible. A small farm and adequate buildings are greatly needed to take care of the growing family of orphans, and it is to be hoped that ere long conditions may make this possible.

The work in the home field has been equally encouraging. There are now nine city missions directly under the Board. These stations are scattered from Toronto, Ontario, to Los Angeles, California. Last year these missions enrolled 2112 pupils in Sunday school and had a total membership of 706. In addition to Sunday school and church work there is also much work being done among the young people during the week in order to provide wholesome companionship for them and keep them off the streets. During the last year there was some effort made to open a work among the Mexican people who have settled in Chicago. Bro. J. W. Shank directed this work during his stay in the city. Since his departure Bro. Nelson Litwiller has given his time every other Sunday to keep this work going.

The Welfare Home at Kansas City is much in need of enlarged and improved quarters. The workers at that place have exercised great patience and endured many inconveniences to help the children who come under their care. The matter of rebuilding the Home cannot be long deferred, and all who have an interest in that place should keep this need in mind when they make disposition of what the Lord has blessed them with. The Orphans' Home at West Liberty, O., and the Home for the Aged at Eureka, Illinois, have been filled to capacity during the greater part of the year, and the workers at those places have done commendable work for the cause.

The Hospital and Sanitarium at La Junta, Colorado, are in the process of a reorganization in order to meet the requirements of the agencies with whom we have to do in order to operate creditably. Sister Selena Gamber, A. B., R. N., succeeds Sister Leichty as Superintendent of Nurses. Sister Leichty served temporarily the last few years to help out until some one else could be secured. Sister Esther Brenneman is now in New York taking special work in preparation for her duties as Supervisor of the Sanitarium at La Junta. Among the other recent supervisors and instructors that have been added to the staff are Mary Hostetter, instructor in Nursing Technique, and Ada Burkhart, Surgery and Obstetrics. Dr. Fred Brenneman, who is under appointment as missionary to India, has taken up the work as resident physician until next June, at which time, if present plans carry, we will send him to India.

In spite of the very distressing economic condition there is much about the work that is encouraging. Missionaries have cheerfully assumed added burdens to make a continuation of the work possible. The Lord has blessed and honored their effort and has given them souls for their hire. They, together with all self-sacrificing givers, are to be commended for the way they rallied to the cause in these times of emergency.

In conclusion we may well say with the Great Apostle: "We were troubled on every side but not distressed, we were perplexed but not in despair, . . . cast down but not destroyed." May it also be said of us that "we always bear in our bodies the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body." If this is true then our light affliction which is but for a moment will work for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory.

Goshen, Ind.

"If we have nothing to hold us up save ourselves, we are easily cast down. If we rest in the certainty of God's power and way, we may be shaken, but never overthrown."

THE INDIA MISSION

By J. N. Kaufman

The trend of events in 1933 were determined somewhat by circumstances. Extension in the usual sense of the term was not possible due to reduced remittances from the Home Church. Cuts in our monthly budget of six and one-fourth per cent and twelve and one-half percent for the greater part of the year meant economy in expenditure. Then when the announcement came in October that for the rest of the year our budget will be cut 25 per cent, it meant an immediate readjustment of finances on the field. A special meeting of the Managing Committee was called to prepare an emergency budget on the basis of a twenty-five per cent cut. Some items in toto were temporarily stricken from our expense account. Conveyance allowances were reduced fifty per cent and we missionaries are now trying to run our motor cars on five dollars a month! At our last annual meeting the question: "If a heavy budget cut should become necessary how could it be handled with the least hindrance to the work"? engaged our earnest attention. When lack of funds prevent entering open doors which show themselves on every hand we feel disappointed enough, but when it is necessary to retrench and close down work which has been maintained for years it means more than we can tell. We believe that the present crisis will eventually reveal some special riches of God's grace which we have not as yet fathomed.

Despite the above statement in reference to extension two new buildings were under construction this year. One is the Nurse's Bungalow in connection with the Medical Station. This is ready to occupy. The other is the new school building which is to house the Christian Academy. This building is not yet completed. Funds for both these buildings were provided before the period of depression began in America.

The three-year experimental period for the working of the Evangelistic Samaj terminates this year. The Advisory Committee consisting of members appointed by the Mission and by the Conference had been watching developments. While there were many good features in connection with this organization it was felt that the main object was not being accomplished. This committee, therefore, recommended to the Business Meeting that our present organization for evangelistic work be discontinued and a new arrangement be set up. The recommendation has already been adopted by the Business Meeting of the mission and needs to be brought before the annual Conference for action. The Conference is almost certain to adopt the recommendation which follows:

The Evangelistic Samaj was organized on the present basis with the following object in view:

1. As the effective beginning in the transfer of Mission work into Indian hands.
2. To promote and foster the spirit of evangelism among the membership of our local churches.
3. To encourage local contributions for the work of the evangelism.

The Samaj has functioned for a period of nearly three years and there have been very important gains, chiefly in the form of administrative experiences for the members of the Samaj. The Missionary members of the Samaj have appreciated the helpful advice and valuable contributions made by the Indian members. The Samaj was able to make notable contributions to the cause of evangelism such as the institution of Gospel Teams and in placing the responsibility of Evangelism on the larger local congregations by removing paid evangelists from their respective areas.

While we gratefully acknowledge the above contributions made by the Samaj, yet it is our considered opinion that the main object of the Samaj has not been accomplished. We believe however, that the purpose of the Samaj as originally stated is sound.

Because of the reasons as given above, we make the following recommendations:

1. That the Samaj as at present organized be discontinued.
2. That the local congregations carrying on evangelistic work in their respective areas and that the local panchayats be responsible for organizing this work. The Mission will carry on evangelistic work in accordance with their convenience and opportunity.
3. Local panchayats will carry on the evangelistic work by the advice of the Ministerial Meeting.
4. All contributions received by the Samaj from local congregations for 1933 shall be returned to the congregations as received from each.

The balance of the Samaj funds shall be returned to the Mission.

If the above is adopted it will mean that the local congregations will devise ways and means whereby more voluntary evangelistic work will be done within their respective areas from the angle of the Church. The Mission will then carry on evangelistic work farther afield along lines that are still to be worked out. The whole aim will be to reach effectively the lost in our mission field, and win them for Christ. As the burden for the lost increases the work will be more effectively done.

The New Academy Building under Construction in India

A few years ago we proposed a savings plan for our people for the reason that a number of those receiving a regular salary are not as provident as they should be and are not able to save for a "rainy day." The savings plan as then proposed had features which were deemed objectionable, whereupon a modified plan was adopted which, while reserving the savings feature, did away with the objectionable element. The plan finally adopted, and which has been in operation for a year, appears below:

Compulsory Savings Plan

1. We favour instituting a compulsory savings plan for all mission employees.
2. A minimum of one anna per rupee shall be deducted at the source and deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank in the name of the depositor.

3. Deposits on the part of the employee shall be compulsory for the duration of active service.

4. Money deposited in the name of any employee is always considered as belonging to that person whether during service or after dismissal or resignation.

5. Monthly reports shall be made by the managers and sent by them at the close of each year to the Treasurer of the Mission on a form provided for the purpose. No salaries are to be paid to employees until the previous deposits have been made.

6. Rules for withdrawal:

a. Ordinarily money cannot be withdrawn from the Savings Bank while the employee is in active service.

b. In special cases, such as prolonged illness, serious loss, or worthy investments, application for withdrawal may be considered by the Managing Committee.

c. Persons who have resigned or have been dismissed, wishing to be reëmployed, must show their previous deposits intact before reëmployment is considered.

d. Deposits in excess of the minimum compulsory deposits may be withdrawn at any time upon application to the Manager.

e. The Managing Committee of the Mission will be the body to deal with all cases of withdrawal of minimum deposits or with matters not otherwise provided for.

The question as to whether or not it will be possible for missionaries on the mission field to support themselves and continue mission work received its share of attention. On the part of some of us at least the wish was father to the thought and various possibilities came under our purview. Aside from the remote possibility of farming (for which considerable capital is necessary) such a plan for us is practically out of the question. What we would be compelled to do, should resources from the Home church be cut off, is quite unknown to us, but we are willing to leave it in the hands of an all-wise God whom we shall trust to provide for our needs as long as He desires our services in this land.

LA CARPA EVANGELICA y EL COCHE BIBLICO

By T. K. Hershey

La Carpa Evangélica is the Spanish rendering for Gospel Tent, and El Coche Biblico is the term used for Bible Coach. ("y" equals English "and," pronounced "ee.") Doubtless, many at home do not know that the Lord has so graciously provided a Gospel Tent for our Mission. The purpose of this article is to give a description of the Tent and the Bible Coach and how they are used.

The Bible Coach

Our Bible Coach is equipped to live in and is at present the home of the writer of this article. It has all the conveniences of a modern home on a small scale minus a bathroom, an attic, and a cellar.

On entering the front and walking through to the rear, we pass through the kitchen. On the right is the sink set on a tank holding about twenty-five gallons of water with a small pump. To the left, is the cupboard with all necessary cooking utensils. Another step takes us to the stove which is a small burner placed in a galvanized box for cooking.

To the right and to the left as we proceed, are two beds provided with exceptionally good mattresses at a height of two feet above the floor. Under these, the bed clothing is kept and also books, etc. At the rear end of the coach, to the right and to the left, are the wardrobes and in the center of the rear are small bookcases. Here, too, is our table provided with folding boards which can be removed when not in use. The Bible Coach is high enough to walk in comfortably.

On the outside at the rear end of the coach, there is a door which can be opened and let down serving as a platform for street and open-air services. When the door is down, there may also be seen shelves of Bibles, New Testaments, Gospels, and portions of Scriptures that are kept for sale. On one side of the coach, a sign reads, "To-night—Gospel Services," on the other side, one reads, "Read the Bible (an open book sketched) and you will know the truth."

The Tent

The tent is oval-shaped, 26 x 40 feet, and is equipped with twenty-four seats. The iron feet are of our own invention that can be removed and folded together so as to occupy small space when the tent is moved from one place to another. Boards for the platform are usually borrowed in the town where we have the meetings. The pulpit is made of kerosene boxes. In the towns where there is no electricity, lamps are provided, and in those where there is, the tent is lighted by three or four globes. On the front of the tent in big letters are the words, "Carpa Evangélica," "Gospel Tent." It is taken from town to town in a small trailer, purchased for that purpose.

Campaign in a Town

Usually before arriving in a town with the tent and coach, a site has been selected and much propaganda has been made beforehand. Some weeks before, cardboards with the picture of the tent and the Bible coach announcing the meetings, are placed in the show windows. If there is a church in the town, the members have long been talking of the campaign and praying for its success.

On arriving, the first thing to do is to go to the police station and tell the chief of police of our plans and what we expect to do. There is no danger that he will hinder or oppose our campaign, for we tell him that we have a permanent permit from La Plata, the police headquarters in the capital of the province. This permit is for holding meetings and preaching in the street, the tent or elsewhere, but we come to him to ask his support and police protection if necessary, and at the same time donating him a Bible. We have found up to now, that they are always ready to defend us and not allow our meetings to be molested. Many would disturb us if they dared.

The tent is then erected, the benches placed, the platform and pulpit arranged. We now start out with the Bible coach to announce the meetings in the tent. With a good-sized megaphone, we announce from the rear window of the coach, where the tent is located and the hour of the meetings, and every now and then a Scripture text is cited. From the two side windows, tracts and handbills are thrown out to those who hear the horn of the car and the announcements of the megaphone. Sometimes the sidewalks are full of curious folks running out to see what has happened and what it is all about.

At the set time for the meeting, there is a song service, and if there are any members present, Scripture texts are given as well as testimonies, after which a sermon is preached, usually by a native. After the first two or three services, an invitation is given to the unconverted to accept Christ. At the close of the service, announcements are made of women's meetings and children's meetings the following afternoon, and also that in the Bible coach there are Bibles, New Testaments, Gospels, and other helpful books for sale.

Then the main audience is dismissed and those who are interested and manifested a desire to know more about The Way, are asked to remain. They come forward and take the front seats when a second service is held for them. There are seven things we teach them:

1. To recognize that they are sinners in the sight of God, and that they need a Savior.

2. That it is necessary to confess their sins to Him who has promised to pardon.

3. To abandon their sins, i. e., quit sinning.

4. Before retiring for the night, to get down on their knees and ask God to pardon them of their sins (prayer).

5. Begin at once to study God's Word.

6. Always be ready to testify of what God has done for them.

7. Work to get others saved.

Each one making a confession is then handed a New Testament, and dismissed after first taking their names and addresses. These names are then handed over to the minister in charge, who will visit them and try to line them up for God and the Church. We usually stay about a week in a town. Longer would be better but it is desired to cover the district before cold weather sets in. Without a doubt, on the return tour, we shall remain a longer period of time in each town.

Two Months

For two months this evangelistic campaign has been in operation with splendid results. The tent not being completed, when beginning the campaign, the meetings were conducted indoors in two of the towns—Alberti and Mechita. We began using the tent in O'Brien, an outstation in the Bragado district.

The towns visited to date are, Alberti, Mechita, O'Brien, Bragado, Carlos Casares, Martinez de Hoz, Quiroga, Moctezuma, Smith, Guanaco and before this is read, it will have been (D. V.) in Pehuajó and perhaps in Madero and Passo.

The attendance has been from 100 to 1,000. Thousands are hearing the plain Gospel preached that never had an opportunity before. In summing up the number of confessions so far, we note that more than 500 have expressed their desire to follow the Lord and His teachings. We do not claim that all are converted yet (would that they were), but we believe that many of them have had a real experience of regeneration and conversion.

Many homes have been changed, prodigals have come home, victories over vice and open sins have been obtained, peace has been reinstated between parents and children and relatives. Many have gotten the victory over drink and the filthy weed habit. It is encouraging to hear the testimonies of recent confessions. May God bless, save, and keep them.

We ask our brethren to continue in prayer for these meetings. Souls must hear of Christ who died for them. Special request is asked for those who work daily with the converts, and pray much for those who made confession. Pray, pray, and God will give the increase.

ACTIVITIES OF THE EASTERN MENNONITE BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHARITIES DURING THE PAST YEAR

By John H. Mellinger

I have been requested to write a brief account of the activities of the Board during the past year. I might say, first, that while the work has been going on in the usual way, yet we have reason to feel thankful that in many ways we have been particularly blessed. To a certain degree, the lot of many other mission boards has also been ours, namely the falling off of contributions as compared with years gone by. The reason for this state of affairs is, of course, apparent to all. But we have not suffered to the extent that the work has been crippled, or any of the workers recalled. This condition of affairs is felt more keenly for the reason that at our city mission stations the calls for charitable work grow greater than in times of prosperity, and our workers are often in a quandary as to what is the best thing to do, owing to the scarcity of funds available for such purposes. For years we have endeavored to relieve want and suffering among the attendants of our missions as much as possible, but the conditions the last two years have been such that we were almost at a loss how to cope with them.

We are all aware that the welfare organizations in the various cities have undertaken the work of feeding the hungry, yet their work was so much intermingled with things that we could not subscribe to conscientiously, that our board about a year ago came to the conclusion that we could best serve our poor and the poor of the community in general by opening a relief station of our own in Lancaster. This was opened in the city of Lancaster on the corner of Locust and Pershing Sts., and carried on until May, 1933. About $15,000 worth of provisions, clothing, and fuel was distributed at a very small cost, and to the general satisfaction of all concerned. This year there are many more

Weaverland Church, Where Farewell Meeting Was Held for New Missionaries to Africa

employed, according to N. R. A. officials, and the state and federal governments have made arrangements that all needy ones can be taken care of, so we deemed it unnecessary to open a relief station, and will only try to take care of the poor connected with our missions.

All our stations have been in operation during the past year, and we are gratified to know of the good interest manifested in nearly all of them. At some of the stations quite a number of confessions are recorded, as well as admissions to the Church.

The work that had previously been dropped at Oak Shade, in the southern part of the county, has again been taken up and new life has been manifested in the work. Attendance has increased, and with the enthusiasm manifested by those having the work in charge, we trust that the work can be successfully continued.

During the last year Bro. Elam W. Stauffer, one of the missionaries appointed for the African field, held a series of meetings at Rawlinsville, one of our preaching and Sunday school stations, and as a result there were five confessions, all colored people. There being a number of colored members of our church scattered over the county, the question naturally arises, what is to be done? Shall they be taken into the various congregations or would it be best to form a separate congregation just for colored members? Our bishop board seemed to incline to the latter view, and accordingly a colored Sunday school has been opened on Howard Avenue in Lancaster City, and preaching services are also being held for them. What the final outcome will be remains to be seen. The interest is good.

The matter of establishing a mission in far-off Africa has been agitated for several years and the interest continued to grow, and finally after much prayer and discussion, the board was encouraged to proceed in the work by the Church in general and by our bishop board in particular, and the work has been launched. Brethren Elam W. Stauffer and John H. Mosemann, Jr., and their wives have been appointed to inaugurate the work. Bro. Mosemann and wife are at present attending the American Bible Institute in New York City, where in addition to other studies, they are taking a short course in medicine which is available for prospective missionaries in that institution. They entered in September and will continue until about April.

On Saturday, Dec. 2, an inspirational and farewell meeting was held at the Weaverland Church as Bro. Stauffer and Bro. Orie Miller intended sailing on the following Thursday, Dec. 7, for Africa. Bro. Miller is accompanying Bro. Stauffer to assist him in the selection of a field of labor. They will enter Egypt at Alexandria and then proceed southward by rail to Khartoum when further travel will be by boat on the Nile River. Somewhere in the eastern part of the continent is where they are expected to locate, but it shall be as the Lord leads.

After a location has been found, it is the intention of Bro. Miller to proceed to India to visit the missions there and then return home. Soon after a permanent location has been decided upon, and after they have finished their studies, Bro. Mosemann and wife and Sister Stauffer will be sent to join Bro. Stauffer for the work there.

We think we realize the responsibilities of the undertaking, but we rely on the prayers of God's people and the guidance of the Holy Spirit to be with us in the work.

Any one who attended the meeting at Weaverland could not help but be impressed by the presence of the Spirit, and the wonderful interest manifested in the work. We do believe that prayers and good wishes avail much, and the departing brethren were certainly remembered in this way.

On Thursday, Dec. 7, at 12:30 A. M. the steamship "Bremen" slipped from her pier at the North German Lloyd docks, Brooklyn, New York, and floated toward the ocean, bearing about 700 passengers, among whom were our brethren, destined for Africa. About fifty of the brethren and sisters from our Lancaster County churches were present to see them depart. Previous to their departure, an impressive farewell meeting was held on board the boat, after which all visitors were requested to leave, and after a delay of an hour, the ship floated down the bay, and the first foreign missionaries sent by our Board, were on their way. May God's richest blessings attend them.

A change has also been made in the financial policy of the Board during the past year. This change has to do with the matter of annuities. Heretofore it has been the custom to have annuities written in such a way that after the death of the annuitant, the investment of the funds was to continue, and the income to be used for any purpose that the annuitant would designate. Continuing this practice through the years, it is evident that a large sum of money would be held by investment, and the risk of loss would become greater as the years rolled on. No corporation can continue to invest a large amount of funds for all time without incurring a great risk of loss and consequent detriment to the work.

The plan that has been decided upon is to invest the funds given on the annuity plan, and have the agreement written that on the death of the annuitant the funds can be withdrawn from investment and placed in the general fund for use in the work. This will greatly diminish the risk of loss and also prove a help in the work by having these funds released. As time goes on, we pass away one by one and anything we have done in this way goes directly to the use of the Board. The plan seems to meet with the approval of our people, as all who have been approached in regard to having the conditions of their annuity contracts changed to the plan adopted, have heartily agreed to it.

For some years there has been a small congregation of our people located in the city of York, the services being in charge of the ministry of the Stony Brook congregation, a few miles east of the city. Some of the members have been advocating more active work among the people of the city, and they appealed to the Mission Board to establish a mission there. The matter was taken into consideration and some investigations made, and it was decided that for the present, stronger efforts should be made in the way of building up the Sunday school and having regular preaching services. Bro. Frank Leaman of Intercourse, Lancaster Co., was appointed to superintend the work, and the interest is growing. Some time in the future we hope a regular mission station will be established.

IMPRESSIONS OF GENERAL CONFERENCE

By J. P. Brubaker

On the evening of August 20 as I approached Hesston College campus, my first thought was, What a change? Where the old unused foundation used to be, stood the large assembly tent, with light wires and amplifier cord connecting the tent with the power line and with loud speakers located at advantageous points over the campus. Adjacent to the power house and laundry was another large tent where food was prepared and served. Here one was impressed with the fact that one could get along nicely without some of the "fixins" of former years. What a task! we thought, as we looked at the scene, impossible for one man alone, but possible through the organization of the many. How true is this fact in all the work our Master would have us do. When God said, "It is not good for man to be alone," He expressed a need that is satisfied, not only in acquiring a woman for him, but in giving him various other associations as well. May it ever be our watchword as a Church; we will never fall if we stand together on the unfailing Word of God.

Perhaps the most lasting impressions were made by "just folks." Old friends, new friends, leaders, and speakers all left an imprint on our mental film. We were cheered by the loyalty and stability of many faithful ones, both young and old, which was manifested by conduct and accomplishment. We did not feel with Elijah that, "I only am left." Then there were those who, by conduct and appearance, made us feel sad; sad because some one was not enjoying a surrendered and victorious life; sad because some one's usefulness in home, church, and community was marred. As there always is in a crowd, there were folks with different temperaments. Some were rushing here and there, always in a hurry, and passing one by, though they did not accomplish any more than those fellow pilgrims who were never too busy to pause a moment to meet a friend or help someone in an emergency. Among the young folks, there were some flippant, giggly ones whose greatest ambition seemed to be to attract attention to themselves. There were also constant thoughtful young men and women who gave evidence of a sane and sober outlook on life. Among the children there was evidence of careful teaching and training, while perhaps some acted more as if they had just "growed up".

I was also impressed with the work of the local committees. I was made to think of the old proverb, "A place for everything and everything in its place." Somewhere on the grounds there seemed to be a job for each one, and each one seemed to be at his job. What a strange sight such a conference would have been thirty years ago! Loud speakers so that messages could be heard anywhere on the grounds, every kind of convenience for the comfort and welfare of visitors, cars from the most distant corners of our land parked along side of tents, tables, and gasoline or oil stoves, where families or friends cooked their meals in modern camp style. One who had attended many of our general assemblies would no doubt have noticed improvement and progress on every hand. Now the questions come: Has the efficiency of Conference to meet the need of the Church in general kept pace with material developments? Have the spiritual problems been as ably solved as have the problems of housing and feeding an ever-increasing attendance? Has spiritual power increased with the increase of organizations and endeavors?

Next the program itself forms a subject for much comment. It first gives evidence of a wide range of activity on the part of the Church as a whole. From the lowly mother, who sews a simple garment to give to a needy neighbor, to the mission doctor, who hands out Gospel truth while he dispenses pills, there is a place for each individual Christian. No one can say that the Church has no program to fit his particular talents or qualifications. Leaders and followers, overseers and laborers, teachers and learners, there is a place for all in God's program.

Second, the various parts of the program gave evidence of a balanced program. One particular phase of work was not pushed to the undue expense of another. Current issues were rightly given special consideration, while subjects recalling the work of the past and strengthening men for the future, were also ably discussed. Thus we see not only a balanced activity but also a correlated activity. How can these various activities, working together, be made most effectively to serve the purpose of bringing the Gospel to a lost world and of building up the saints in holy love and faith?

Coming to the speakers, they perhaps gave me the most varied impressions. As a whole they impressed one with the fact that they had given much thought and study to their part of the program. Their messages were born of conviction and prayer. Each definitely emphasized the work of his particular field without minimizing the work of another. As individuals each speaker showed particular strong points and sometimes weak points as well. Here a brother leads out because of a gift of speaking, there another is valuable because of leadership, or wise counsel, or keen insight into the Scriptures. Some men stand out prominently because of the constant atmosphere of devotion they carry with them. Some men impressed one because of their ability to see both sides of a question and choose the wisest course for all concerned. Some speakers may have seemed too stern or definite, while others were too general and apologetic. How true that the Spirit has set men, "as he will."

The last impressions we want to mention have to do with the surrounding nonchurch community. They too anticipated large crowds and business. They are to be commended for their interest and valuable help. What were their impressions? Did the conference leave with them only memories of people, automobiles, work, and excitement, or did they get the real significance of the event? Did they get the impression that here is a people given over to a spiritual task, to a task that has to do with souls and eternity, to a task that is divinely appointed and for which they are held responsible for its accomplishment? May our General Conferences continue to grow in power and efficiency. May they ever be the means of keeping the body of our Mennonite people grounded firmly on the solid rock, Christ Jesus, keeping true to the faith for which our forebears gave their lives.

GOD SO LOVED

"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him, should not perish, but have everlasting life" (John 3:16).

God so loved us, every one,
He gave His only begotten Son;
If on Him we will believe,
Life eternal we'll receive.

To the blind did God give sight,
Of the world, He is the Light;
If His Words we will obey,
He will lead us all the way.

Jesus loves us, this we know,
He came to earth His love to show;
For our life—His own He gave,
From death eternal—He does save.

OPPORTUNITIES BEFORE THE CHURCH OF TO-DAY

By O. N. Johns

Every age has its opportunities. Sometimes we feel as though others, or those who lived in by-gone days, had more opportunities than we have for accomplishing great things. But, as a matter of fact, we all have ample opportunities of doing good, if we will only avail ourselves of them.

The Church has great opportunities before her to-day, the same as she has had in the past. Our prayer is, that the Church of to-day might be awakened out of her sleep into a living experience with Christ our Savior.

Let us walk circumspectly, redeeming the time because the days are evil. Let us make a little survey of the opportunities which are before us as a church to-day. We choose to note them under three groups.

1. The Opportunity of Repression.
2. The Opportunity of Expression.
3. The Opportunity of Preparation for a Bright Future.

The Opportunity of Repression

The Christian warfare is both aggressive and defensive. There are certain things that are constantly making inroads into the Christian faith. Worldliness in its various forms is being forced upon the Church by Satan, the god of this world. The Church needs to set herself in array against this.

To-day is an opportune time for the Church to repress this tidal wave of sin. If we drop our hands and give up in despair now, the result will be disastrous. We still have young brethren and sisters as well as older ones who will contend for the faith once delivered unto the saints, if they will receive some encouragement.

The doctrine of salvation through faith in Jesus Christ and Him crucified, whom God raised up, is being jeopardized; the Genesis account of the creation is being questioned; God's teaching on eternal punishment is being ignored; many men's standards in life, social, religious, and business, are being lowered. Our credit is no longer as universal as it once was, because of the dishonesty that has crept into the Church.

These things have not gotten such a hold on our Church yet but that they can be repressed if we as Christians unitedly cry aloud and spare not. What an opportune time to labor together with God to keep the Church pure!

The Opportunity of Expression

"Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him" (I John 3:16, 17)? Because of the present economic conditions, we have a special privilege of expressing the love of God, shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost, by giving help to the poor. God's command is "Remember the poor" (Gal. 2:10).

Expression of the will of God. God has commissioned His Church to preach the Gospel to every creature.

A time of darkness and distress is a very opportune time to proclaim a Deliverer, a Savior. When Israel was in bondage or distress, then they cried unto the Lord and He heard them. Psa. 107. Just so to-day, dark continents are open for the Gospel.

Expression of the power of God. We can give expression to life by letting our lights shine. In a world where sin and crime are so prevalent, the Christian life will stand out all the more noticeable. The darker the night, the brighter the light seems. "Men loved darkness, rather than light, because their deeds were evil." Let us therefore dispel the darkness of this world by reflecting the Christ life so that the wicked and sinful may not be able to find a hiding place behind some weak church member.

It takes the grace and power of God through the Spirit to be able to live the Christlike life in these days. But God has said, "My grace is sufficient for thee." Let us pray for one another, that we may be able to live the nonresistant, nonconformed to the world, simple, consecrated, and holy life, for to-day there are those who are ready to receive teachings like these, who, in the past, would have given no listening ear.

Opportunity of Preparation

We are looking for the return of our Lord at any time. We feel that the Scriptures have been sufficiently fulfilled for His coming. Nevertheless we want to provide enough oil (Holy Ghost) so that, if He should tarry for some time yet, we would still be prepared to meet Him.

When we look at our Church; our splendid group of young people that are coming on; our forefathers, and the heritage they gave us; the scriptural teachings we have received; and the many opportunities that are afforded us through the Church for the development of the individual for service—such as our many mission activities, our educational institutions, church publications, young people's institutes, winter Bible schools, summer Bible schools, midweek prayer meetings, Bible study classes, conferences—such as Church conferences, Sunday school conferences, Bible conferences, Christian Life conferences, etc.,—besides our Sunday schools and young people's Bible meetings, we are made to rejoice and to "praise God for His goodness and for His wonderful works to the children of men," and we also are made to appreciate our Church all the more. I think our young people especially should appreciate the Church and praise God for such opportunities.

May the Church also realize that if we would have a Church that can be presented unto Christ, a glorious Church, without spot or wrinkle, when He shall return, we must continue to feed, indoctrinate, develop, and bring up our young people in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

Our country is spending large sums of money for the welfare and safety of the children. As a Church we too can well afford to use of that with which the Lord has blessed us, not for the gratifying of the flesh of our young folks (or even ourselves) but for their spiritual development, that they may be living witnesses for the Lord, now and in the days to come, and staunch supporters of the doctrines of God and also of the Church.

It is true that some, or all, of the above named organizations and institutions may be a hindrance to the cause of Christ and the Church, if conducted and directed in the wrong way, and therefore with the organization or institution comes a problem. May we seriously and prayerfully, yet cheerfully, meet these problems and sponsor a constructive program in the sight of God, heading these organizations and institutions with faithful and competent brethren who have hazarded their lives for the cause of Christ and the Church. Present-day conditions make their demands upon the saints, especially upon the young Christians, enticing and alluring them to sinful practices. This is a challenge to the Church. We need to walk circumspectly.

We need to use every means possible and direct them toward the establishing of the believers, both young and old.

Let us use the Junior departments of the Sunday school and young people's Bible meeting, the summer Bible school, etc., for the teaching of the Word to the children; the short term Bible schools, young people's institutes, our Church schools, and literary societies for the instruction and development of our youth.

Besides this, let us conduct our Sunday schools, preaching services, conferences, missionary endeavors, publication work, young people's Bible meetings in such a way that God may be glorified, the sinners saved, and "for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ; till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ: that we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive; but speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ" (Eph. 4:12-15).

If you want to prepare a noose for your own neck, just slip one on the neck of your brother or sister. You may succeed in robbing them of their influence temporarily. You may even succeed in killing them in the minds of some, but lest you forget your deed, God says, "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." The reaping always comes—some thirty, some sixty, and some a hundredfold. Be ready for the harvest. There will be no escape. —R.

OUR EDUCATIONAL WORK

By D. A. Yoder

The Educational work of the Mennonite Church is one of vital importance to many of our people. This is shown more and more as we note the increased interest which is taken in this part of the Church's program. This interest is shown in a number of ways: The maintenance of an Educational Board in the Church; the establishment of three Church schools; the operation of an increased number of short term Bible schools; the increased attendance at Church schools in general and the deep concern which is manifest in nearly all sections of the Church for the educational welfare of our young people.

Is there a need for the educational in our church program? This question has been asked again and again and has been answered in various ways. Our young people are no different from others when it comes to their desire for more advanced work in education. They aim to become proficient in whatever work they wish to pursue, hence many of them go to school somewhere to prepare for their life work. When we know that a large number of institutions of learning make no pretense of caring for the spiritual welfare of the student, and that many others which once stood for righteousness and truth have left the simple teachings of the Gospel, it at once makes us feel that there is a real need which should be met by the Church. We believe that our people who will go to school are deserving of the best. I do not mean the best only in educational lines, but the best in teaching and environments which will hold forth the faith and practices of the Mennonite Church.

One statement which has often been made is that many who attend our schools afterward leave the Church, and that their usefulness is lost to us. There is too much truth in the statement, but if we were to make comparisons with other losses to the Church it might not be as bad as it looks to be at first. I would venture the statement that the losses among those who go to other schools or to no schools at all are proportionately larger than among those who go to our own schools. One task of the Board is to put an appeal into the educational work of the Church that will tend to save for God and the Church.

We have a distinct message to the world which we know will not be given in the secular schools neither in other denominational schools, hence it is urgent that we give it in schools of our own, under our own board, organized and controlled by the Church.

Our opportunities as a Board are varied. Among these are: To give a secular education to our young people amidst surroundings conducive to spiritual growth; to secure teachers who are not only spiritual but also living exponents of the doctrines of Christ and the Church. Too often we think that our schools are for our own only and forget that in them we have untold opportunities to show to others our principles of faith and practice. Our message is not only for those whom we call our own but for all to whom we may be able to give it. We can see to it that our schools make added provision for the study of the Word of God and preparation for service in the Church.

Too often as a Board we think our work is ended when we have had an annual meeting, have heard reports, discussed a few general questions, elected officers, and adjourned. Instead of this being the end of our year's work it is only the beginning. True, much of the work is delegated to certain individuals or committees, whose task is to wrestle with particular problems, but much remains for the other Board members to do, such as bringing to the Church the needs of the Board and its particular problems from time to time; keeping in touch with those who are inclined to go to school; and doing our part to get them to attend our own schools. Our task is to work with Church, board, and schools constructively, rather than in a destructive way. We may not always be able to accomplish what we would like, but we can at least keep on working. It is not a time to give up, but rather a time when the challenge is greater and demands more effort on the part of every member.

What are our aims? It is not only our aim to have schools, but to have schools where our people can be better prepared to work in our own Church. We are not looking forward to the establishment of more schools, but rather to caring for those we already have more adequately in providing ways and means to do more efficient work. Our slogan should be, Not more schools but better. We have not reached the ideal, but we are striving toward it, aiming to put into practice the purposes for which the Board was called into existence.

Any work of the Church has its problems, and without the problems the work would not be worth while. The establishing of an educational program in the Church was brought about because of the problems along the line of education, and if we should cease our efforts to meet them we would still have the same problems, only in a larger way, and we would be less able to cope with them. One of the questions facing us continually is how to get more of our Mennonite students to attend our Church schools. Too many are attending other schools, both secular and denominational. Some of the reasons given are as follows: We cannot get the work we want; we can get the work nearer home; we do not have enough confidence in the stability of the educational work of the Church, etc. How overcome these and other reasons given is one of the continual problems of the Board. May we as a Church get back of this work and support it in all ways and so create a greater confidence, and especially as Board members do all in our power to help make the work worthy of support. We must show to the Church that our schools put a religious emphasis into their life, while many schools either wholly neglect this or have a questionable emphasis.

The question of accreditment comes up continually, and it must be met. The students demand it so that their work may be properly evaluated when they get out into life to earn their livelihood. The Church demands it because as a people we do not want to spend our money where the returns are questionable when we go out into our life's work. We have tried to meet this question by securing qualified teachers and putting on a type of work which compares favorably with the work of state and other schools.

Under these times of depression the problem of finances is one of much concern. If it were not for the noble sacrifices which the faculties have been making it would be next to impossible to go on. But with a standing together and making changes here and there we have been able to go on, and with the support of the Church and the help of God, I believe we shall be able to continue with better schools than ever before.

When we mention support of the Board the question of finances naturally arises in our minds, but there are other ways of support which necessarily should come first. The Board is the product of the Church and feels that the united prayers of all are needed so that its work may be carried on successfully. We need the moral support of ministers, board members, and laity. Every minister should do his part in the congregation where he is located by prayer, by presenting needs of the Board, and by taking a constructive rather than a destructive attitude. Every Board member should realize that it is his duty to try to further the Board's interest in the district which he represents. He should not only be interested in getting finances but also in keeping before the people the various needs of the Board. Every member, being a part of the larger body, should not only look on, thinking that the task belongs to a few who have been given special place, but should do his part in prayer, encouragement, and financial support.

The educational work in the Church is not the result of a passing fancy, but it is the result of seeing a real need and an attempt to meet this need in a way that will be of most good to the most people in the Church. May God, who overrules all, guide in this part of the Church's program.

"LOOKING UNTO JESUS"

By Jacob H. Mellinger

In this present time of financial depression, when our rulers are seemingly using every available means to bring back a condition of prosperity to our country, we are made to wonder sometimes if they have not neglected to consult Him before whom the nations "are as a drop of a bucket," and by whose hand the kingdoms of this world are disposed of as He wills. If they were to take God into their plans to a greater degree and depend less on human ingenuity and the "brain trust," there is reason to believe that they would be even more successful in their efforts. For God has declared in His Word, "Them that honour me I will honour, and they that despise me shall be lightly esteemed." The Church may well take warning against making a similar mistake. In Heb. 12:2 we are admonished as individuals and as a body to be continually "looking unto Jesus."

The Church has much work to do. When Jesus gave His disciples His last message before leaving them, He told them to go and teach all nations. They were to baptize believers in the name of Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost. They were to "teach them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you." Then He gave the promise—"Lo, I am with you alway." The Church has never been released from this obligation, and when in the right condition, it can always claim this promise. And when we consider the hundreds of millions in foreign and in home lands who know nothing about Christ, it is very evident that the missionary work everywhere needs to be pressed; the ground that is gained must be held; Christ's sheep must be taught and cared for. With all this work of the Church, in order that it may be properly done, she must be constantly "looking unto Jesus."

With the work of the Church many problems arise as to how it shall be done. Every local congregation has its problems, as has every conference, district or general. Every mission station has its problems—every city mission, rural mission, foreign mission—each has its own peculiar problems, and the boards that direct them have their own problems that need to be solved. Then there are the educational problems, and the young people's problems, and the dress problem, and still more problems. All these need all the wisdom that can possibly be obtained. But in the solving of these problems, unless there is a constant looking to Jesus, the solution will never be satisfactory.

Then there is the opposition which the Church must encounter—opposition within and without. There is at the present time a determined opposition against the Church from without. There is the opposition from other religions, who because they do not know the blessings of Christianity, seek to oppose it. Then we have the opposition of unbelievers — infidels, freethinkers, atheists, and others like them. And then we have the spectacle of one of the greatest nations of earth, one that was once a professedly Christian nation, on account of gross worldliness in the Church, turning against it and seeking to drive it completely from its borders. This nation is apparently trying to sow this same seed of opposition in other nations wherever it can.

Worse and more subtle in its workings than any of these, is opposition from within—a falling away, a departure on the part of many from the faith, and a seeking to set up a so-called Christian religion, in which human intelligence or reason is placed above the Word. We know what a strong footing this has obtained in the professed church, and the mischievous work it has done and is still doing there. Then there are those who have allowed themselves to drift into lukewarmness, or coldness, or worldliness, and as such are constantly helping to weaken the Church. We can not by reasoning, or by argument, or by any power in ourselves, overcome this opposition. While the Church must do her work, uphold the banner of the cross, contend earnestly for the faith, and let her light shine before men, it is only by looking to the Master, and in the strength that we receive from Him, that she can successfully cope with this opposition.

We can easily understand why this is so. Jesus Christ founded the Church. He purchased it with His own blood. He is its head. He directs its activities with and through the Holy Spirit and the Word. He cares for it and upholds it with His power. Some time He is coming for it again, to receive it as His bride unto Himself. Why should we not be constantly looking unto Him? As Peter said, "Lord to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life."

We look to Jesus for guidance—"When he the Spirit of truth is come, he will guide you into all truth." We look to Him for keeping—"The Lord is thy keeper." "The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil." We look to Jesus for power—"But ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you." We look to Jesus for wisdom—"If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him." We look to Him for daily supplies, both temporal and spiritual—"But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus." We look to Him for everything, because "in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily."

There is a tendency on the part of the Church to look elsewhere than to Jesus; to place too much confidence in human leaders; to be "of Paul," or "of Apollos," or of "Cephas." Paul told the Corinthians that he "determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ and him crucified." Perhaps we are stressing the cause of education too hard. We forget what the Word says about it, and the innumerable examples of what has happened to those who have trusted in it. Then we place too much confidence in what we can do; the impression we can make through our own efforts. We like to please and be pleased. We like to entertain and be entertained, and make believe it is the Spirit of God working. We like entertainment in the pulpit and out of it. And possibly we would rather go to church to hear a program rendered, or to hear an entertaining talk, than to meet to bring an offering of praise and worship. And besides these things help to swell the crowd, and perhaps the receipts also. When we look to these things instead of to Jesus in our Christian work, it is time that like Mr. Munhall of the M. E. Church, we begin to fear "breakers ahead."

It is also possible that the Church may be counting the favor of the powers that be. The Church of God dare not but be loyal to the government under which it is living, and support it even if it means oppression, as long as she is not asked to violate conscience. But when we think we must help regulate the government, in order that we may be sure of getting a fair deal, we are getting our eyes off the Master, and are in danger of losing the very thing we are trying to gain. Sacrificing principle for any cause whatever, always means loss. When the early Church united with the state it gained in numbers, but suffered woefully in spirituality.

In our individual experience we need to learn the same lessons. We look too much to ourselves and to the things of this life. We all meet with hard problems, and dark places, and unpleasant experiences, and with temptation, and sorrow and pain and suffering, and things that we can not understand, and we try to live these things down in our own strength. Like Peter, we get our eyes off the Master, and see the storms of life around us, and we begin to sink. We forget that in our weakness, Jesus' strength is made perfect; that He was in all things tempted like unto us, yet without sin; that He will not suffer us to be tempted above what we are able to bear; that He is the light of life; that He invites us all to come to Him, and we shall find rest to our souls; that He is the Good Shepherd, and knows His sheep; that He is continually leading them; and that they shall never want. He has promised to be with us always, even unto the end of the world. Surely under these conditions, as a Church and as individuals, we should be constantly "looking unto Jesus," and in so doing we shall find life, and rest, and joy, and peace, and victory.

ACTIVITIES OF THE MENNONITE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

By Levi Mumaw

During the year 1933 no large outstanding movement of refugees was undertaken although there were definite calls for such service. Early in the year the major activities in Mennonite relief were directed to sending relief to the needy in Russia. This work was carried on mainly by the different relief organizations in this country direct with established agencies in New York and Germany, and not through the office of the Mennonite Central Committee.

The touch with the newly established colony in Paraguay has been continued, and certain relief was given early in the year. Because of lack of funds at our disposal and to enable the colony to assume more direct responsibility the entire budget as previously assumed was not carried out in detail. It has not been possible to reduce the loans made by the Committee for the purpose of supporting the Harbin refugee movement of the previous year.

The war between Paraguay and Bolivia has had its effect on the affairs of the colony. Early in the year a serious epidemic of malaria fever broke out, which lasted over a period of about six months and at times was very serious in its effect on the colony. Through the aid of the military physicians stationed in the colony hospital, which was used for wounded soldiers, and the sending of large shipments of medicine from Germany, the plague was stayed, and normal health has again been restored, although the effects of the disease will be felt for some time.

Through a verbal report given to the Committee by Dr. Jacob Quiring, who had spent nine months in the colony and recently returned to Germany by way of this country, it has been learned that the colony has made real progress despite the many hindrances on account of the war and otherwise. He reported that there is an abundance of food, such as can be raised in the colony, on hand. The more serious problem is to secure such other groceries as are needed to supplement what is being raised. There is a need of some adjustment by the colonists to the foods available in this way. The land is very productive, and with the wide range of planting seasons the matter of raising garden crops, as well as field crops, is made easier than in many other countries.

The one special inconvenience to the progress of the colony is the excessive heat during the summer season. With the present depression in world markets, the colonists find themselves in a situation similar to many other countries, and, because of the distance from the larger markets, find it almost impossible to market their surplus foods at this time. This means a real shortage in cash to such necessities of life as clothing, salt, seed, etc. There is a movement on foot to plant a larger acreage to cotton for the coming season. A liberal amount of cottonseed has been supplied to the colony for planting, and new hopes are fostered along this line. The sale of cotton this year was encouraging, although the crop was much less than it should have been because of not having the acreage planted. It is said that no other country will produce the amount of cotton that is possible to raise per acre in the Chaco, where the colony is located. It is hoped that this will become the main cash crop for the colony.

While those in the Chaco were busy getting settled in their new home, a group of about thirty families have still been detained at Harbin, China. Although the task of moving them to Paraguay, to be united with those who had gone before, was delayed because of lack of funds, they were not forgotten. Through the efforts of Bro. Unruh in Germany a portion of the funds needed for this purpose was pledged by several relief organizations having offices at Geneva. The Holland Mennonites also made a definite pledge of what they would be willing to supply for the movement. On receipt of this information by the Central Committee the task was again taken under advisement, and the matter was brought to the attention of the different Mennonite relief organizations in this country. It was agreed that no movement of these people could be undertaken until the former obligations assumed in this work would have been covered in some way and enough funds were available or pledged for the new movement. The matter was brought to the General Conference. District Conferences took up the work. At the present time the outlook for the final movement of these people looks encouraging, although an amount of $8,000.00 more is needed. The work will be continued, and it is hoped that the definite plans for sailing may be made not later than March 1, 1934. This is the immediate task facing us.

PLACE, WORK, REWARD OF FAITH

The true servant is not depressed and complaining, or comparing present things with the past; dissatisfied and discontented, retiring into corners to unburden his murmurings; but, on the contrary, he is so truly from the place of faith doing the works of faith, according as the interests of Christ are presented to him, that he knows in his own soul the reward of faith. He has his wages—fullness of joy—Christ unfolding Himself to him in blessed nearness, and he knowing the fellowship of the Holy Ghost; and what the Kingdom of God is—even righteousness, peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost. —The Christian's Helper.

TWELVE THINGS WE SHOULD REMEMBER

The value of time.
The success of perseverance.
The pleasure of working.
The dignity of simplicity.
The worth of character.
The power of kindness.
The influence of example.
The obligation of duty.
The wisdom of economy.
The virtue of patience.
The improvement of talents.

THE MENNONITE MARTYRS

By John Horsch

The most important source for the study of the martyrs is the great work compiled by Thieleman Janz van Braght, of Dortrecht, Holland, in 1660. Its title, Martyrs' Mirror, is very aptly chosen, for the book reflects clearly the inner life, the spirit, the disposition and the motives of the martyrs. There are, in the first place, the accounts of their martyrdom and the preceding imprisonments, often in noisome dungeons, and the description of the cruel tortures to which they were subjected and of their final execution, all of which they bore in Christian patience and fortitude.

Of equal importance and value as the accounts of their sufferings and martyrdom are their numerous letters written in the prisons which are contained in this work and which present a mirror of the inner life of the martyrs. These letters breathe the spirit of deepest piety, devotion, and consecration, of glowing certainty and immovable conviction, of ardent love to God and the brotherhood. They indicate complete submissiveness to bear that which the Lord would permit concerning them; they express the willingness and readiness to suffer and, if need be, to die for the faith.

The question is here pertinent, What were, in the last analysis, the motives in the willingness of the martyrs to die for the faith? One might say that they died for the sake of various doctrines and principles, and this is indeed a fact. It is true, but is not the whole truth. The fundamental reason why they held fast to these principles unto death was that they were convinced that to deny their faith would be disloyalty to Christ. Their faithfulness and constancy were rooted and grounded in their love to Christ.

The fact deserves notice that evidently there was no unhealthy, fanatical desire for martyrdom. True, a number of the martyrs expressed themselves in a way which at first glance might seem to indicate such a desire. For instance, Adrian Pan wrote that he never had a happier day in a dungeon of Het Steen prison at Antwerp than the day when he was sentenced to death, and Julius Bernarts said: "When the sentence of death was pronounced over me, my joy was full, since my redemption was so near." Others also have expressed themselves in a similar way. But such utterances must be considered in the light of the plain fact that there was absolutely no hope for liberation from their inhuman imprisonment during which they were, as a rule, at intervals subjected to the most cruel torture. To be apprehended and imprisoned meant certain death for them and it was only natural that they did not desire their time of dreadful suffering to be prolonged.

Nevertheless, they were fully resigned to the will of the Lord. "My dear friends, thus I am still minded, and I so love my Lord and my God that, if I could save my life by a thought, and I knew that it did not please the Lord, I would rather die than to think such a thought." An evidence of the absence of an unsound desire for martyrdom is also the fact that they were possessed by an ardent love for their kin, of which there is abundant proof in their letters. In the letters written in the prisons husbands often take a touching farewell from their wives, and wives from their husbands, or fathers and mothers from their children. "Kiss my little Susanneken (pet name for Susanna) for me," Hendrik Verstralen wrote twice in a letter to his wife. Jerome Segers in his prison at Antwerp, having heard of the great grief of his wife because of his imprisonment, wrote to her, after reminding her of their future reunion before the Lord: "Oh, that I might be able by my suffering to relieve your anxiety, I should gladly suffer death for you!" "We leave our dear little children," wrote a woman in prison, "whom I would not forsake for all the treasures of the world; could we do this, if we were not sure of our ground?"

The martyrs looked constantly to God for His presence and help, having the firm conviction that nothing could befall them without His will and permission. "They cannot hurt a hair of our head without the will of our Father," wrote William Droogscherder from his prison. Another wrote: "My dear friends, the more tribulation there is to try us, the more we are comforted through Christ; this we have fully experienced." They experienced the presence and definite help and comfort of the Lord. "If we would think of the sufferings," wrote Jan Claesson, "we would not overcome, but we must look beyond these things upon the eternal reward."

A girl named Elizabeth, who suffered martyrdom in 1549 at Leeuwarden, said under torture: "Oh, I cannot endure it any longer." The lords said: "Confess, and we will relieve your pain." But she cried unto the Lord, her God: "Help me, O Lord, thy poor handmaiden! for Thou art a helper in time of need." She continued to call on the Lord, and He took away her pain, so that she said to her tormentors: "I feel no longer any pain in my flesh as I did before." They obtained not a word from her in the way of betraying her brethren. One of the martyrs at Basel in Switzerland said under torture: "My body is in your power, you may brand, tear, and lacerate it as you may choose. But my soul overflows with joy through the inward consolation with which the Lord fills me."

Invariably, when the martyrs were taken to the torture chamber to be laid on the rack, their greatest anxiety was that they, in order to have the excruciating pain alleviated, might yield to the temptation to betray their brethren. Therefore they sometimes expressed the desire that they might know less about their brethren and their whereabouts. Many of their letters from the prisons contain warnings against too great inquisitiveness as concerned the names and dwelling places of those of like faith. The records contain many testimonies that under the most excruciating tortures no name came over their lips. They testified that the Lord kept their mouths sealed, while the inquisitors did all in their power "to drive out," as they said, "the dumb devil."

Jerome Segers gave the following touching account of his torture: "They tortured me severely, but the Lord was stronger than all their torments; He kept my lips. Eternal praise and glory be to Him who does not forsake His own. They obtained no names from me. . . . They threatened that they would torment me till the next morning and stretch me a foot longer than I was. Pouring water into my mouth they filled my body full of water. They had bound me with four cords and racked me so that it seemed to me as though my head and legs were severed from the body. But they obtained nothing from me; praise and glory be to the Lord."

There were, in passing, among the martyrs evidently only very few who were not able to write. Illiterates were seldom found in Mennonite circles. The ability to read and study God's Word was under ordinary conditions considered essential for a successful Christian life. Illiterate converts were speedily taught to read. The friar Cornelius, a notorious inquisitor, at Bruges in Flanders, in a disputation with Jacob Keersgieter, said that those who formerly could not tell an A from a B, suddenly could read and write after they had been rebaptized. It was evident, he said, that the devil had a hand in this. "I can well hear," said Keersgieter in reply to this accusation, "that you do not understand our way of doing, for the grace which God grants our converts, when we with all diligence teach them to read, you ascribe to the devil." A number of the letters of the martyrs refer to this fact that illiterate converts were taught to read. For the prisoners it was almost impossible to obtain the light, paper and ink needed for writing (pencils being unknown in that age). One of these letters was written with a little juice of "krake-berries."

A PRACTICAL VISION

"A vision without a task makes a visionary; a task without a vision makes a drudge; a vision and a task make a missionary."

There are many young Christians looking forward to service for the Lord in a foreign mission field. Their hearts are all aflutter whenever they hear a missionary present the great need of the millions of heathen in Africa, India, China, or some other distant land.

The desire is created in their hearts to bring Christ to these dying men and women. We do not want to stifle this desire, but put it to a practical use.

If one with this vision waits until he gets to the foreign shores to win souls for Christ, he will either lose the vision before that time or else be useless in God's service when he does reach the field.

We might consider the story of the demoniac of Gadara as related in the fifth chapter of Mark. This man was in awful bondage. He had yielded his body to Satan and had become demon-possessed, not by one demon, but by many.

Our Lord set him free from this torment. The joy and gratitude of the Gadarene knew no bounds. Immediately he prayed the Lord Jesus that he might be with Him. "Howbeit, Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him; go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee. And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel" (Mark 5:19, 20).

Learn this lesson: "Go home first; tell your loved ones, your friends. After that you may go out into the world and spread the good news that 'the Blood of Christ cleanseth us from all sin.'"

D. L. Moody once met a young fellow on a train. This young man was bubbling over with the prospect of going to Africa and winning the heathen for Christ. Mr. Moody asked him a very pertinent question, "How many souls have you brought to the Lord here at home?" After a brief pause, he answered truthfully, "I do not know of one soul that I have won."

This word in due season, dropped by God's faithful servant, made the young fellow think. As a consequence, he got busy for Christ.

He was a soul-winner here at home, and later God gave him a fruitful ministry in Africa.

If you don't win souls at home, you won't win them anywhere.

"Do not wait until some deed of greatness you may do,
Do not wait to shed your light afar.
To the many duties ever near you, now be true, Testify for Jesus where you are."

—The Pilot.

"IF GOD BE FOR US"!

"If God be for us, who can be against us"? says the Apostle. It is not only that the strength of God is for us to meet every difficulty and foe, but His Presence produces liberty and confidence in our hearts, for we feel that we have the knowledge of His will, since He is with us. The sense of His Presence gives joy, calmness, and courage in presence of the enemy, and in the difficulties of the way we rest in Him. "Thou shalt hide them in the secret of Thy Presence from the pride of man: Thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues." The Presence of God, a true and real thing for the heart, keeps the conscience awake, and the heart filled with quiet confidence.

CALLED HOME

By Daniel Kauffman

In a church of 50,000 members it is safe to estimate that from 500 to 1000 members are called each year to answer the summons from on high. This number should be kept in mind as we figure on the net gain in membership. Among those called are men and women, boys and girls, of all ages —some prepared for the great change and some unprepared. In this as in all other things, "God is no respecter of persons."

Among those in our ranks who were called from time to eternity during the past year were a goodly number of active workers and leaders who were known beyond the borders of their home community or district. Space will not permit mention of all these, but we shall write briefly of a few of them.

Ebersole, Melinda (1860 - 1933).—Died March 6. She was born in Lancaster Co., Pa., and in her childhood years accompanied her parents to Sterling, Ill. In her early years she was converted, united with the Mennonite Church, and continued faithful to the end. She was, for many years, a faithful worker in the Mennonite Home Mission in Chicago.

Coffman, Joseph W. (1857-1933).—Died April 26. He was a life-long resident of the Shenandoah Valley in Virginia; a son of Bishop Samuel Coffman and brother of J. S. Coffman the pioneer Mennonite evangelist. He united with the Mennonite Church in 1879 and was ordained to the ministry in 1907. He was active in the work of the Lord, spending much of his time in the West Virginia field as well as in his home district. Every enterprise in the Church that had the stamp of loyalty on it had also the whole-hearted support of Joseph W. Coffman.

Good, Solomon R. (1871-1933).—Died May 17. He was born near Dale Enterprise, Va., the son of Christian and Anna (Heatwole) Good. His father was a bishop, and two of his brothers—Samuel (deceased) and Aaron C.—were and are in the ministry. From the time of his conversion he took an active interest in the work of the Church, being a member of district and General Mission Boards a number of years. As a young man he moved to Sterling, Ill., where he was ordained a deacon in the Science Ridge congregation in 1923.

Bowman, Moses C. (1855-1933).—Died April 28. He was a faithful minister of the Gospel for over 44 years, serving the congregation at Mannheim, Ont. He was widely known, took an active interest in the affairs of the Church, and traveled extensively. His voice was heard in many churches and conferences.

Lineweaver, William T. (1846-1933).—Died May 26. He was a pioneer member of the Church in Keokuk Co., Iowa. He and S. B. Wenger, who is still an active member, began active work, about forty years ago, to build up a congregation in their own community. Liberty Church, near South English, Iowa, is a result of their labors. He served his congregation as deacon for many years.

Smeltzer, Samuel (1857-1933).—Died June 25. He was a lifelong resident of Elkhart Co., Ind., and served the Holdeman congregation near Wakarusa as deacon for over 35 years. His counsels were much esteemed and his services appreciated.

Westenberger, David (1857-1933).—Died July 7. He was for many years a bishop in Lebanon Co., Pa., and faithful in the performance of his duties. He was seldom absent from conferences in his district and took an active interest in the affairs of the Church.

Winey, Caleb (1849-1933).—Died Aug. 30. He was born in Juniata Co., Pa., the eldest son of Bishop Samuel Winey. In 1879 he moved with his family to Osborne Co., Kans., where he was called to the ministry soon afterwards. Later he moved to Marion Co., Kans., where he served faithfully as one of the ministers in Catlin Church near Peabody. His last years were spent in a hospital in Goessel, Kans., being an invalid, but he bore his afflictions patiently—his patience in afflictions being one of his most eloquent sermons.

Brubaker, Isaac H. (1858-1933).—Died Sept. 2. He was a lifelong resident of Lancaster Co., Pa. He was a member of Erisman's congregation, where he was ordained minister in 1907. Thirteen years later he was ordained a bishop in his bishop district, which place he filled faithfully until declining health interfered with his active ministry. He was faithful, loyal, and active, and his voice in conference was always listened to with interest.

Kreider, Jonas M. (1857-1933).—Died Oct. 22. He was born, lived, and died in Medina Co., O., with the exception of a few years that he lived in Texas. He united with the Mennonite Church in 1892 and two years later was ordained to the ministry. Bethel Church, near Wadsworth, was his special charge, but the whole Church held his interests. Among his coworkers in the ministry were N. A. Lind, now in Oregon, and S. D. Rohrer, the present minister in charge.

Lehman, John K. (1874-1933).—Died Nov. 5. He was born near Wakarusa, Ind., and died near Tofield, Alta. He and his family were among the pioneer members near Mayton, Alta., where he was ordained to the ministry in 1906. Later he moved to Tofield, where his labors were ended while he was yet in the prime of life.

Moyer, Tobias E. (1863-1933).—Died Nov. 10. He was born in the Franconia District, Pa., where he lived until he was called to assume active charge of the Mennonite Old People's Home near Lancaster, Pa. In early life he gave his heart to the Lord, united with the Mennonite Church, and for 22 years prior to his death rendered faithful service as steward in the Mennonite Home.

Bomberger, Tobias (1855-1933).—Died Nov. 13. His life was spent in Lebanon Co., Pa., where he served as a deacon a number of years. He is known for his active interest in the affairs of the Church. His life was brought to a close in an automobile accident.

Clemmer, Hiram D. (1857-1933).—Died Nov. 29. A lifelong resident of Montgomery Co., Pa. A son of Deacon Abram D. Clemmer, he served for many years in the same capacity in the Franconia congregation, having been ordained in 1914.

Rickert, Allen (1848-1933). — Died Dec. 13. He was born in Bucks Co., Pa., but when an infant his parents moved to Medina Co., Ohio. In his early manhood he moved to Mahoning Co., Ohio, where he was ordained to the ministry in 1892. In this capacity he served faithfully until the infirmities of age reminded him, and others, that he was ripening for the better world. His interest in the affairs of the Church was maintained to the last.

Stalter, Anna (1874-1933). — Died Dec. 21. She was born and died in the vicinity of Elida, Ohio. She is known to many of our readers because of the fact that she spent many years as a missionary in India, where her labors are still remembered with appreciation.

Blosser, Henry (1853-1933).—Died Dec. 26. He was a lifelong resident of Rockingham Co., Va., but widely known to the brotherhood in other districts. He was ordained a deacon in 1899, in which capacity he served faithfully until near the close of his life.

THE SECRET OF A HAPPY DAY

Just to let thy Father do
  What He will;
Just to know that He is true
  And be still.
Just to follow, hour by hour,
  As He leadeth,
Just to draw the moment's power
  As it needeth.
Just to take the loss or gain
  As He sends it;
Just to take the joy or pain
  As He lends it;
Just to leave in His dear hand
  Little things,
All we cannot understand,
  All that stings.
This is all and yet the way
  Marked by Him who loves thee best;
Secret of a happy day

—Frances Ridley Havergal.

PRESENT WORK AND OBJECTIVES OF THE GENERAL SUNDAY SCHOOL COMMITTEE

By A. J. Metzler

It is now nearly one hundred years since the beginning of Sunday school work in the Mennonite Church of America. During that time the Lord has raised up many faithful leaders in the work and has been pleased to bless it as a mighty agency in the teaching of His Word. It has also been greatly used of God as an evangelizing agency, as an institution for the training of Christian workers, and as a means of opening new fields of Christian service.

As a result of conviction and after a number of years of careful, prayerful planning the General Sunday School Committee was brought into existence eighteen years ago. The purpose of this new organization was to have a group of faithful, able, and experienced brethren constantly studying better ways and means to more effective Bible teaching, and to be ready to advise and direct the schools in attaining that end. This committee has done much faithful work along these lines during the past years, although, due to change of personnel and other conditions, it has sometimes been somewhat hindered in doing its best.

During recent years new opportunities for service have presented themselves to our committee. Although the Sunday school still remains the Church's greatest single agency for the systematic teaching of the Word, yet there are other avenues for Bible teaching being developed which require much careful study, planning, and supervision.

The present and future sphere of activity and work, for which the General Sunday School Committee is responsible, might be clearly and definitely defined as follows: While the Mennonite Board of Education is responsible for the Church's Christian educational work as carried on at her centralized church schools, the General Sunday School Committee is responsible for the Christian educational work of the Church in its various forms as carried on in the local congregations throughout the Church. This clearly defines our field of work, and it is a great field.

We appreciate the good work which has been done by the Church in providing definite Bible teaching for young and old in each congregation. But when we carefully study the Word to see God's plan for preaching to the world and for teaching the Church, and especially the children, we are made to realize that we have a long way to go until we come near to what might be done. This conviction of what might be and should be done is deepened when we realize that God has so constituted the child that its future for time and eternity depends largely upon its training in the Scriptures in early and tender years.

Up until a generation or two ago the young people between the ages of twelve and twenty-two years were given practically no place in the Church. The past generation has made the proper provision for them. There is splendid and Scriptural means provided for their evangelism, instruction, training, and service. Of course there is room for improvement.

In like manner we firmly believe that the Church's present and great task is to make the proper Scriptural provision for sufficient and effective Bible teaching for our youth below the age of twelve, as well as above that age. Again we want to acknowledge the good work already done. But in view of what should be done, in view of what God expects us to do, in view of what we must do, our past efforts are only the beginning of thorough, definite, and systematic Bible teaching for our girls and boys in every congregation.

In the studying, planning, promoting, and supervising of this division of the Lord's work lies the colossal task of the General Sunday School Committee. We keenly realize that it is not only a great but a sacred task. It is not only for time but for eternity. It is not man's work, but God's. Divine wisdom and strength are needed, and only with the close coöperation of home, other phases of church work, and the church in general, can we have the assurance of God's blessings upon the work.

As previously mentioned the Sunday school is the Church's present most effective agency for the systematic teaching of the Word. We believe that it will be such for some time to come. And especially do we believe that it will continue to hold the central place in our Christian educational program in the local congregations, if the proper pains are taken to improve its efficiency and usefulness.

Ways in which the Sunday school will need constant improvement are as follows: Better administration, a stronger teaching force, improved curriculum, better adapted buildings and equipment, and a closer coöperation of the home and all church workers, local and in general. To this end our committee, through its officers and authorized subcommittees, is working.

Another valuable means of Bible instruction which has come into prominence during the past decade is the Summer Bible School. The Lord is also blessing this work. A properly conducted Summer Bible School gives a congregation the opportunity of offering their girls and boys as much more Bible instruction as they are now receiving in the Sunday school. This work is gaining. During the past year one conference had Summer Bible Schools in about half of their Sunday schools. The same district has plans for additional schools during the coming year, which will mean the conducting of Summer Bible Schools in about two-thirds of their Sunday schools. What is being done in this rural district can be done in most sections.

Here, too, there are many problems. Much time and energy have been spent in this field during the past number of years. Its chief work has been the preparing of a course of study. This is being done through the Summer Bible School Committee and associated assistants, under the direction of the General Sunday School Committee. It is planned to have the entire course in ten grades in that number of manuals ready for distribution by the coming spring. This is truly one of the greatest single steps in Christian educational work which the Mennonite Church has undertaken.

Another important phase of our committee's work which has received new impetus recently is the Teacher Training program. As previously reported in our church papers, a new course was approved at the last General Conference. This is receiving a hearty reception and meeting a real need throughout the Church. The continued promotion and direction of this work will constitute an important part of the committee's interests and activity.

The General Sunday School Committee has always given much attention to promoting the mission interests of the Church. It has encouraged and aided in the providing and directing of mission study courses and classes. In coöperation with the Mission Board we have sponsored the quarter investments and saving boxes among the Sunday school girls and boys. This work has done more than provide thousands of dollars for orphans and other needy children at home and abroad. It has been a means of developing real missionary interest and conviction.

We have endeavored to outline a few of the things which engage the interests of the Committee for the present. It is the Lord's work. We are servants of God and of the Church. We desire your prayers. We invite your constructive criticisms and suggestions. May we work and pray unitedly in this important phase of the Lord's work.

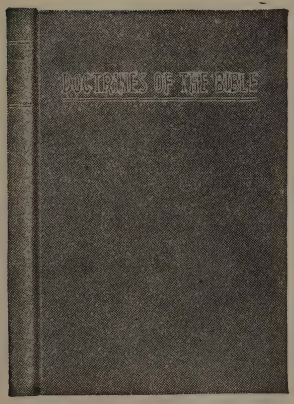
DOCTRINES OF THE BIBLE



A comprehensive book, treating on all the major doctrines of the Bible. It is analytical in its treatment of subjects, yet as a whole is an interesting and readable book for all classes of people. Ministers, students, Christian workers, and those who enjoy reading for devotional purposes will find something here that will appeal to them. It will serve as a ready reference book in the Christian home.

The book is divided into eight parts: God; Man; God and Man; Realms of Darkness; God's Plan of Salvation; The Church; Christian Life; The Future. The chapters are carefully subdivided and outlined. It gives a brief discussion of Scripture teachings as set forth in God's Word.

This book should be in every Mennonite home. One of our ministers in recommending it to his congregation held up a copy and said, "This is the strongest book of our faith that I ever read." Send us your order for a copy at once before you neglect it, or give your order to your local representative.

The book contains 640 pages, size 6 x 8½ inches, substantially bound in dark blue cloth with gold lettering. Each, postpaid.....$ 2.00

MENNONITE HISTORICAL REFERENCE WORKS

CENTENNIAL HISTORY OF THE MENNONITES OF ILLINOIS: 1829-1929

By Harry F. Weber

In a volume of almost 700 pages, the author traces in detail the history of the Mennonites of Illinois from the very first settlement in 1829, now more than a hundred years ago, down to the present time. He has spared no pains in preparing an accurate survey of the early prairie settlements, and traces the growth of these early settlements into the large communities with hundreds of members supporting active church organizations and charitable institutions. The story includes interesting accounts of pioneer life, together with a description of the growth of the pioneer religious life and organization of the newly arrived Mennonite immigrants from Alsace and South Germany into religious organizations with Sunday Schools, mission enterprises, young people's activities, and the like.

This volume is exhaustive, not only in covering all the nine branches within the state, but also in giving a detailed account of every congregation and institution in the various branches. The volume is encyclopedic in character, and will without doubt remain the standard work in its field. Its usefulness is much increased by maps, illustrations, statistical tables, a biographical appendix, and several extensive indices.

MENNONITES OF LANCASTER CONFERENCE

By Martin G. Weaver

The author has spared no time or expense in gathering the historical matter necessary for a publication of this kind. The original purpose of this work, as related by the author, was to make a record and a comparison of the growth or decline of the many Mennonite Congregations in Lancaster County, and to compile a complete list of all bishops, ministers, and deacons with the dates and terms of service, as well as to record the location of the early meetinghouses and the dates of their erection, ending with the list of the present congregations, Sunday schools, and other departments in the service of God, as conducted by the church. This purpose has been accomplished with added historical matter of general interest.

The material is arranged by Bishop Districts and can readily be understood by all. The enlarged chapter on Sunday Schools, Missions and Charitable Institutions in the Conference district is of more than passing interest.

A chapter is devoted to the work of the Lancaster Conference. This is of vital importance and will be of interest to the entire Mennonite church body. Other Mennonite bodies located within the borders of the Lancaster Conference District are included in the history in a brief way. A chapter is devoted to the list of Church leaders in other Mennonite conferences who came originally from Lancaster Conference. Practically all the leading conferences in the United States and Canada have been affected by this emigration in earlier years.

A complete record is given of ordinations of bishops, ministers, and deacons with dates of death and ages within the Lancaster Conference District.

The book contains about 550 pages including 47 illustrations. Some of the early landmarks as well as a number of the present meetinghouses are shown by the illustrations. Size of pages 5¾ by 8¼ inches. Bound in cloth with side and back stamps in gold.

FEEDING THE HUNGRY

RUSSIA FAMINE

1919—1925

TELLS ITS OWN STORY

of the race with the grim reaper DEATH in a land of political revolution and the persecution of a once thrifty and progressive people combined with the results of Civil War and finally the monster FAMINE.

Thousands Were Saved

from starvation through the united effort of Mennonites in America. The book tells how the news of their distress and need first reached America; what efforts were made to bring relief; how our contact was made in Russia; how our food was delivered and finally prepared and fed to the starving.

You Have An Opportunity to help again in the present effort to bring relief to those who have left home and native country for a land of religious freedom and civil rights to hold property. This book is published by the Mennonite Central Committee and every sale brings back to its treasury about two-thirds of the retail price which will become available for further relief work. You are providing a splendid book for your library and at the same time helping the cause of relief through your purchase.

Read the following message from President Hoover, Washington, D. C., regarding the book:

"It presents a wonderful record of generosity and service by those of the Mennonite faith which perhaps only those like myself, with whom the society so effectively cooperated will ever fully appreciate. For a society of such limited membership and such moderate means to have contributed over $1,300,000.00 to these purposes in addition to their other burdens during the war, is evidence of self-denial and generosity which brings credit upon the whole American life."

The book is substantially bound in cloth with gold back and side stamp. 465 pages with 60 additional pages of illustrations. Size 6 x 8¼ inches. Weight 2lb.

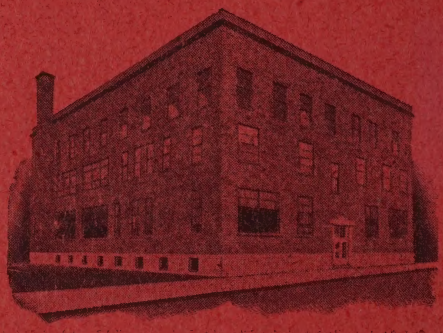
YOUR OPPORTUNITY

to render a personal service in the work of a Church Institution may never be opened to you but there may be ways and means at your command which have been unnoticed. The work of the Mennonite Publishing House has been made possible through a consistent financial program carried out by the assistance given thruout the Church by individuals. This service can be extended to others and you are invited to have a share in it. Please note the following suggestions.

ANNUITIES

This form of donation is appealing to many of our people. A certain rate of interest is paid on the donation as long as the donor lives. After death the interest is discontinued and the principal is in the hands of the institution. It provides a safe investment. The interest is paid every six months. No state or inheritance tax can be collected from it. The donor becomes his own administrator of his estate.



The Gospel Herald and Christian Monitor Annuities are being continued. $30.00 pays for the Gospel Herald for a life time. $20.00 pays for the Christian Monitor.

DONATIONS

Further development of the work will be greatly enhanced by the assistance that is given in the form of donations. The possibilities for the spread of Gospel Truths are increasing as the years go by and the printing industry is developed. Millions of pages of printed matter are being circulated thru our present equipment. The possibility of increasing this circulation is ever before us. If you cannot make your donation now, a bequest in your will can easily be arranged. An opportunity for real service in the cause of the Master is open to those who have financial means at their command.

LOANS

Until the present liabilities are cancelled by either of the above forms or through the profits of the work of the Institution the loan department will be open to our people. While the original loans were sufficient to cover all indebtedness, there are constant changes through the calling of these loans made to the House. As these calls are satisfied, they are replaced with other loans. We thus have a sort of banking arrangement. Money is received as needed in any amount not less than $100.00. Thirty days notice is required to withdraw it. The interest is paid annually. Notes are written for one year and automatically renew as the interest is paid.
